

Abiodun Adegboye is an Associate Director and leads the Forensic Accounting and Disputes Services practice at PricewaterhouseCoopers, Nigeria.

She is a lawyer with over 19 years practical experience spanning the Legal, Financial services and Consulting sectors. She has supported clients with solutions such as Fraud investigations, Dispute analysis & expert witnessing services, Anti-bribery & corruption (FCPA & UKBA) services, Corporate intelligence services, Fraud risk management services, Anti-money laundering, governance, risk and compliance reviews and independent business reviews.

She has successfully led and participated in engagements both in the public and private sector, local and large multi-territory engagements spanning Financial Services, Oil & Gas, Insurance, Manufacturing, Professional services, Aviation, FMCG, and SMEs, and other sectors.

Abiodun has facilitated workshops on judicial reforms for the Lagos State Government and the Nigerian Bar Association's section on Business Law.

She holds a Law degree from Obafemi Awolowo University, Ile-Ife and an Msc in Investment Management from Cass Business School, City University, U.K. She is a Certified Fraud Examiner (CFE) and a Certified Anti-money Laundering Specialist (CAMS).